1. All the art rejections in the 01/21/2004 Office Action are maintained.
2. Applicant's amendment filed on 04/21/2004 necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action (see 112 claim rejections below).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. Support for the time exposed value of about of 6 seconds" is not found in the specification. Therefore, the time exposed value is treated as new matter.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1771

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. Claims 1- 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Koontz (US 6,022,902) substantially as set forth in the 01/21/2004 Office Action.
8. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koontz (US 6,022,902) as applied to claim 1 above, in view of Chung (US 5,837,365) substantially as set forth in the 01/21/2004 Office Action.

Response to Arguments

9. The art rejections have been maintained for the following reasons. The declaration is evidence that the invention is inadequately claimed. The declaration states there are many different ways, many different variables within the different ways of plasma treating a film including line speed, power, gas flow rates, and plasma pressure, etc. The claims are relying on these critical features to show distinction. However, none of the critical features is presently claimed. Therefore, the claim is incomplete with respect to the declaration. Additionally, MPEP 2113 points out it is the effects of the method steps presented that must be considered and if method steps critical to practicing the invention are missing, the scope of the claim is affected. In the instant case, the absence of the critical elements results in a claim of the same scope as the prior art. In affect, the declaration shows that the claimed invention doesn't have the properties recited. Further, it is irrelevant whether or not Koontz has the same property after the plasma treatment specified as that is a process step. With respect to product claims, it does not matter how quick the film will achieve the pore accessibility as presently claimed after the plasma treatment but it does matter whether the physical properties of final products are the same, i.e., have the volume fraction, pore accessibility, water contact angle, hydrophilic property, etc. based on the declaration, the only time Koontz fails is when it's treated via Applicant's process.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
